🧱 Respect Their Boundaries: Reading

Transitions · Unit 1 · Level 3 (closer to the class work) · goes with Transitions Level 2 slides: Respect Their Boundaries + sort cards + exit ticket

Name: _____

⏱️ 5-minute review

- Name one of your rights.
- What responsibility goes with it?
- What is an accommodation?

Boundaries

A boundary is a line a person sets to feel safe and comfortable. People have boundaries about their body, their stuff, their space and their time.

Use three signals. Green means okay: go ahead. Yellow means ask first: check before you do it. Red means stop: they said no, or it's not safe.

To ask first: 1) ask, “Can I ___?”, 2) wait, 3) listen to the answer. If the answer is no, accept it: say “Okay, no problem,” give space, and find another choice.

Example: A classmate's earbuds are on the table and you want to try them. That is yellow, ask first, because it's their stuff.

Check your reading

1. What are the four kinds of boundaries?

_____

_____

2. What are the three steps to accept a no?

_____

_____