🎯 Set My Calm-Down Goal: Reading

SEL · Unit 3 · Level 3 (closer to the class work) · goes with SEL Level 2 slides: Set My Calm-Down Goal

Name: _____

⏱️ 5-minute review

- Which tool got three stars for you? Why?
- Plan A won't work on a loud bus. What is Plan B?
- How can you tell a tool helped?

A Strong Goal

A goal is something you work toward. A strong calm-down goal is one you can check. It has four parts: a feeling or trigger, one tool, a number (how often), and how you will know it helped.

Weak goal: “I'll be calmer.” It is missing the trigger, the tool, the number and the check.

Strong goal: “When I get frustrated in math, I will use box breathing before I talk. I'll try it 2 times a week. I'll know it helped when I can keep working.”

Write your goal on a pocket card so it goes with you. Each week you mark how many times you used it and whether it helped, then decide what you will do next week.

Check your reading

1. What are the four parts of a strong goal?

_____

_____

2. Why is “I'll be calmer” a weak goal?

_____

_____