Edgenuity reading (Armenian Genocide excerpt)	🚧 Not in the export.

2. Supports built in

- 🔊 Read aloud button on the reading and notes pages
- Key-term box at the top of the notes
- Short answers can be dictated or typed

3. What to grade

- Guided notes: same points as the class worksheet when complete
- Quick check: score, then scale to the class quiz points
- Modified grading only as the IEP allows. Check with the case manager.

4. Who to ask

- Mr. Driver (SLE): changes and IEP questions.
- Facts we could not confirm say “check with the World History teacher”.

🚧 Under construction (check with the World History teacher)

- Edgenuity Armenian Genocide excerpt: The excerpt used for Armenian Q8 and the final UN-member question is in Edgenuity, not in the export.
- Teacher sign-off on Unit 8: Please have the World History teacher and case manager look over this unit before students use it.

💗 Sensitive topic note

This is the most sensitive unit. Level 1-2 materials name what happened in simple, true words, with no images of victims, camps or violence; pictures are memorials and leaders only. Before class: tell the case manager, preview the class videos (the USHMM film and survivor videos are graphic in places), and give students a way to step out. Some students may have family histories connected to these events (Jewish, Armenian, Rwandan, South African, or other refugee families); never ask students to share. The games review vocabulary, rights and upstanders only; no game question is about numbers of deaths. Keep the tone calm (no 'fun' framing). The Honors Path to Genocide and the Edgenuity reading are not adapted.

Name: _____

From Prejudice to Genocide

In 1948 the United Nations defined genocide as acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnic, racial or religious group. Genocide rarely happens suddenly. It usually grows from prejudice and propaganda, to laws that take away rights, to violence that the government organizes.

After World War I and the Great Depression, many Germans were humiliated and desperate. Adolf Hitler, who wrote Mein Kampf ('My Struggle') in prison, blamed Germany's problems on Jewish people and other groups. The Nazis offered simple solutions by exploiting people's hopes and fears. Once in power in 1933, they declared emergency rule, suspended civil rights and opened concentration camps for political opponents. The 1935 Nuremberg Laws stripped Jews of citizenship and banned marriage between Jews and non-Jews. Nazi 'race science' was pseudoscience: false ideas dressed up as science. On November 9-10, 1938, Kristallnacht ('Night of Broken Glass'), Nazis attacked Jewish businesses, homes and synagogues. During World War II, the Nazis and their collaborators murdered about six million Jews, as well as Roma, disabled people and others. This is the Holocaust.

Earlier, during World War I, the Ottoman government, controlled by the Young Turks since 1908, targeted the Armenians, a Christian minority in a mostly Muslim empire. Beginning in 1915, Armenians were deported, marched into the desert and massacred. Estimates of the dead range from about 600,000 to 1.5 million. Turkey has long argued against calling these events genocide, but survivors' accounts and most historians describe them as one.

In South Africa, the white-minority government created apartheid ('apartness') in 1948. Laws separated people by race in housing, schools, beaches and benches, and forced Black South Africans into separate areas. Nelson Mandela led resistance, was imprisoned for 27 years, and in 1994 became the country's first Black president after apartheid ended.

In Rwanda in 1994, Hutu extremists, using radio propaganda, killed about 800,000 Tutsi and moderate Hutu in about 100 days. Studying these events shows how ordinary people can become perpetrators, bystanders, or upstanders who resist injustice.

Check your reading

1. List the steps that usually lead to genocide.

2. How did the Nazi Party gain public support?

3. Using the UN definition, explain why the events of 1915 are called the Armenian Genocide.

A. The Path to Nazi Genocide (Qs 1-11)

1. How did WWI lead to the rise of Nazism?

A. It had no impact	B. Germany did not struggle after WWI	C. It left a humiliated Germany looking for someone to blame

2. In prison Hitler wrote Mein Kampf, which means 'My Struggle.'

3. What laws were put in place at the 1935 Nuremberg rally? (Q7)
Jews lost German citizenship; marriage between Jews and non-Jews was banned.

4. What is pseudoscience, and what does it tell us about Nazi 'racial' measurements? (Q10)
False ideas presented as science; Nazi racial 'science' had no real scientific basis and was used to justify hate.

B. Armenian Genocide

5. What group controlled the Ottoman government after 1908, and what were the two major religious groups? (Qs 2-3)
The Young Turks; Muslims (Turks) and Christians (Armenians).

6. Take the position of a UN member: which parts of the genocide definition were visible in 1915-1920s?
Killing members of the group, causing serious harm, deportations/conditions meant to destroy the group, all with intent.

C. Apartheid and Rwanda

7. Fill in the table.

Place	Years	Who was targeted	Key person or fact
South Africa	1948-1994	Black and other non-white South Africans	Nelson Mandela, 27 years in prison, president 1994
Rwanda	1994	Tutsi and moderate Hutu	About 800,000 killed in 100 days

8. What would make the Tutsi seem 'superior' to colonial rulers, and why is that idea dangerous? (class question)

Colonial rulers used false racial ideas to favor one group; dividing people by 'race' created resentment that extremists used.
