CASEL 5 · self-awareness · self-management · social awareness · relationship skills · responsible decision-making · self-esteem · self-worth · self-confidence · RULER · boundary · ethical values · bullying · upstander · mental health continuum

A. CASEL 5 and self-esteem

1. Fill in the table.

CASEL skill	What it means	Example
Self-awareness	knowing your feelings/strengths	noticing you're nervous
Self-management	handling feelings/goals	deep breaths before a test
Social awareness	understanding others	noticing a friend is upset
Relationship skills	communicating/cooperating	working out a conflict
Responsible decision-making	safe, caring choices	saying no to a dare

2. Rewrite this self-talk to build self-esteem: “I'm so stupid, I'll never get math.”
Example: “Math is hard for me right now, but I'm still learning and I can ask for help.”

B. RULER, Feel Good Plan and boundaries

3. The five RULER skills are Recognize, Understand, Label, Express and Regulate.

4. Alex (a made-up student) just got a bad grade and feels frustrated. Write Alex's Feel Good Plan: Pause, Identify, Generate a list.
Pause: deep breaths. Identify: frustrated. List: walk, music, talk to teacher/friend.

5. A friend keeps asking Alex to skip class. Write what Alex could say using all four boundary steps.
Compliment, concern, alternative, leave kindly — e.g., “You're fun to hang out with, but I don't want to skip. Let's hang out after school instead.” Then walk to class.

C. Values, bullying and mental health

6. What If? You see someone post a mean edited photo of a classmate, and it's the third time this week. Which ethical values apply, and what could an upstander do?
Respect, caring, responsibility; don't share, support the classmate, report to an adult, report the post.

7. Mental health moves from healthy to distress to illness, and mental illness is treatable.
