Name: _____

Part A. Leader chart

1. Fill in the table.

Leader	Empire	Known for
Osman	Ottoman	Founded the empire
Mehmed II	Ottoman	Took Constantinople in 1453; renamed it Istanbul; allowed other religions
Selim the Grim	Ottoman	Beat the Safavids; took Mecca, Medina and Cairo
Suleiman	Ottoman	“The Lawgiver”: law code, tax system, peak of power
Isma'il	Safavid	Founded the empire (1501); made Shi'a Islam the state religion
Shah Abbas	Safavid	Golden age; capital at Isfahan; supported arts like rugs
Babur	Mughal	Founded the empire (1526); related to Genghis Khan and Timur
Akbar	Mughal	Religious tolerance; strong government
Jahangir	Mughal	Akbar's son; supported art; his wife Nur Jahan held real power
Shah Jahan	Mughal	Built the Taj Mahal for his wife Mumtaz Mahal
Aurangzeb	Mughal	Strict; ended tolerance; long wars weakened the empire

Part B. Compare

2. Akbar and Aurangzeb both ruled the Mughal Empire. How did they treat Hindus differently, and what happened because of it?

Akbar was tolerant (ended the tax on non-Muslims, welcomed Hindus into government), so the empire was stable. Aurangzeb was strict (brought back the tax, tore down some temples), so revolts and wars weakened it.

3. Pick one leader from each empire who was “the best.” Give one reason for each.

Answers vary. Example: Suleiman (laws), Shah Abbas (arts, Isfahan), Akbar (tolerance).
